

A perfect proposal

Here are some ideas to help you with the ultimate proposal

A TRIP DOWN MEMORY LANE

Take a day trip visiting all the spots that mean something to you and your partner. Maybe where you first met, where you had your first date, where you became exclusive or where a milestone in your relationship took place? Make it fun with clues or keep them guessing.

A REAL SURPRISE.... REALLY

It's not often that surprises stay secret. So make sure that if you want it to be a surprise to cover your tracks and tell no one! Why not plan an after dinner surprise or hide the ring in something special. Or go big with a decorated space to show just how much you love your partner and showcase your love to the world.

JUST THE TWO OF US

Make it very romantic and intimate with just the two of you. Find a romantic picnic spot, or plan a joint activity like a bike ride or hire a boat and propose out in sea. Go somewhere private or stay at home, the idea is to make everyone as comfortable as possible, it will make for great memories.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

Get the family involved to help with the planning, coordinating the day and even capturing the special moments before, during and after the proposal. Why not host a party and propose in front of family and friends, or have family members guide your partner to where you need them to be. Having family and friends around will also make for a great celebration straight after.
